

Chemistry Seminar - Gas-Phase Chemistry Still Hiding Some Surprises

The Chemistry Seminar Series welcomes Timothy Dransfield from the University of Massachusetts Boston. Please join us for his lecture titled "Gas-Phase Chemistry: Still Hiding Some Surprises" on February 13th at 11:00 AM in Arey 5.

Abbreviated Abstract: The need to understand the impact of human society on the Earth's atmosphere has reinvigorated the study of gas-phase kinetics and mechanisms.

Details for the entire Spring 2009 Chemistry seminar series can be found on the web at:
